A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Alumni, Parents and Friends of Serra,

In December of last year, Pope Francis opened a special door in St. Peter’s Basilica, marking the beginning of an Extraordinary Year of Mercy. During the past year, Catholics were called to reflect upon the merciful love of God. By the time you receive this edition of Traditions, the door will have closed, marking the end of a special year. The door to our Padres’ hearts, however, must forever be open to looking at others with the same mercy that our Lord has for each of us.

For us at Serra, mercy is authentically realized by a complementary effort to promote justice. Serra students, faculty and staff recently created a new vision for the term “brotherhood,” a concept that resonates deeply among our Padres. This vision of “brotherhood” is impacting everything we do to support our students’ growth toward adulthood:

The Serra Brotherhood is a bond shared among Padres, past and present, based on the values of respect, integrity, inclusion and compassion. Padre brothers hold themselves and each other accountable to these values every day, as Jesus modeled in his own life.

Following this example,

- A Padre is a man of respect, treating others with love and kindness.
- A Padre is a man of integrity, acting with honesty and fairness, seeking truth.
- A Padre is a man of inclusion, embracing diversity and the gifts of others.
- A Padre is a man of compassion, compelled to help others, especially those most in need.

Our nation is moving through uncertain and divisive times. The inculcation of these virtues into the moral fiber of our students will serve our country and our world well. As this definition is a living document, and not just words on a sheet of paper, I already see the need for an additional virtue—courage.

In this edition of Traditions, you will find many examples of courageous Serra men who exemplify this vision of brotherhood. Siempre Adelante!

Lars Lund
President

GRADUATION 2016

"Each of us has the capacity to do great things and make a renowned impact on our world."
-Miles Todzo, 2016 Valedictory Address

It was a day of celebration on May 28, when 209 members of the Class of 2016 graduated at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco. The church was filled with proud parents, grandparents, family members and friends.

The diplomas were presented by Serra Principal Barry Thornton, Ed. D. The graduates earned $17.3 million in college scholarships and completed 43,694 hours of community service. There were three valedictorians this year—Jose Sandoval, Mikey Takla and Miles Todzo. Todzo presented the valedictory address on graduation day.

"Although at times we might fall short of our goals, the brotherhood we have developed over the past four years will always be there to pick us up," he said. "The instances of generosity, care and leadership I have witnessed will resonate with me forever. I am indebted to you, my fellow classmates, teammates and friends, for constantly inspiring me to become a better person. I hope I have done the same for you. The challenge is for us to continue to inspire others with our actions as men of faith, wisdom, service, community and leadership. As we progress through our lives, I hope that all of us will willingly take risks in life and strive to have a positive influence on those around us. As we have seen throughout our time at Serra, we can often find our own inspiration when we look beyond ourselves."

It's no secret that preparing for college is stressful these days. In an era when many parents hire professional college counselors for thousands of dollars, it's comforting to know that Serra's counseling team has the expertise and resources to shepherd our Padres through the college planning and application process. Serra provides students with a four-year program, and each year builds on the previous year. So, while it's important to begin the college planning process early, a systematic, highly-personalized program helps to avoid the frenzy. The results speak volumes about our counseling team's success—99 to 100 percent of Serra students matriculate to college, and they earn millions of dollars in college scholarships. For the class of 2016, that number was $17.3 million, not including need-based aid.

What exactly makes Serra's college counseling program so outstanding? The Traditions staff sat down with Serra's five counselors—Jane Zoucha, Karen Ghidossi, Steve Farren, Kris White and Chris Quiry '01—to learn more.

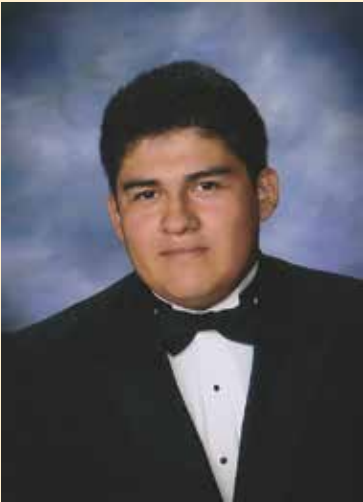

Q: Why is college preparation so important today? How has the application process changed in the last five to 10 years?
A: The public impression of the college admissions process has generated considerable anxiety over the past several years. The application process has become more competitive, as the number of college applicants surpasses the number of available seats at many colleges and universities. Over the past 10 years, most colleges and universities have seen an increase in applications, including some from a few thousand applicants to 30,000 or more. During this same period of time, the number of students accepted by these colleges has increased only slightly. This has lowered admission rates at the most popular and well-known schools. To ensure that they have suitable options for college, students apply to more schools today than in previous generations. Technology has made it easier for students to apply to multiple schools without having to complete additional applications.

Q: What do the boys do each year at Serra to prepare for college?
Freshman year: Freshmen and their parents are introduced to the importance of grades, getting involved and sharpening their study skills. A student's GPA is the primary factor in college admissions. Freshmen are introduced to Naviance, our web-based, college planning program, and they begin to build their résumés.
Sophomore year: Using a program in Naviance, sophomores take personality profile tests to discover their career interests. They learn a little more about themselves, which is central to the college process. They begin to research colleges and update their résumés.
Junior year: Each junior participates in a year-long college planning seminar, a curriculum-based program that helps students to self-assess, determine their goals and identify colleges that will further those goals. Testing plans, college research and college admissions case studies are pieces of the seminar. Juniors are encouraged to attend college admissions visits, which are held daily in the fall. Counselors meet individually with each junior family in the spring to review goals and develop college lists.

“Serra's college counselors helped me to find a perfect college match. I felt a renewed sense of confidence in myself. I was awarded the Gates Millennium Scholarship, which provided me with a full scholarship to attend the college of my dreams, Santa Clara University. Without the Serra counselors' advice and assistance, I definitely would not be where I am today.”

Eduardo Ruano '16
Double major: computer science and engineering

Senior year: On Senior Kick-off Sunday, seniors begin the application process. Individual meetings, application workshops and college admissions visits continue during the fall. Throughout the year, counselors meet with students to review admission decisions from colleges and financial aid packages in order to guide the final college decision.

Q: Do you help the boys to select colleges?
A: Serra counselors work extensively with each student throughout the college process to support the boys, while suggesting schools that are suitable to their academic achievement, social interests and career goals. The college planning seminar, junior family meetings and individual meetings help students to develop their college lists. This includes recommending colleges that students might not have previously considered.

Q: How soon should high school students start looking at colleges?
A: Students should visit colleges during the junior year, although it is never too early to step on campuses whenever it is possible. Some of our families visit campuses during family vacations, which is an excellent idea. We also host college fairs on campus and welcome visits from college admissions representatives. Exposing students early enables them to set academic goals, which is the most important factor in college admissions.

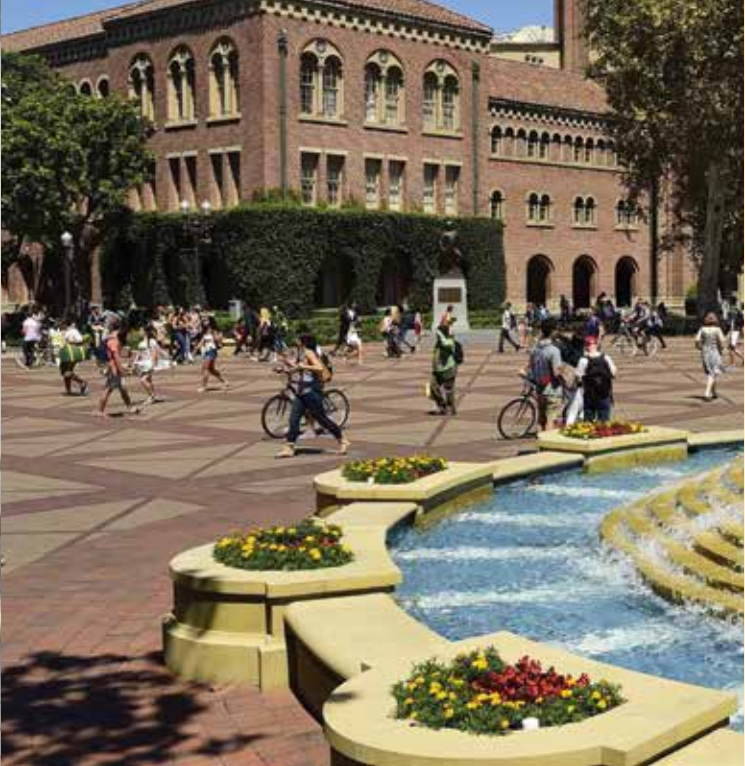

Q: Do you help our Serra students with their college application forms?
A: Serra counselors work closely with each student and provide opportunities to attend application workshops for the UCs, CSUs and four-year private and out-of-state colleges.

Q: What is your advice about the SAT and ACT? Should they take both and, if so, how many times?
A: We recommend that students take both the SAT and ACT (both with the additional essay) in the spring of junior year. During the summer prior to senior year, students should prepare for additional testing in the fall, based on their earlier test results.
Q: How does the essay work? Do they write it in their English classes or do you help them with that?
A: The personal statement gives admissions counselors a sense of who a student is and a glimpse of his writing skills. It reveals a student's personality and character, which grades and test scores do not show. Senior English classes work on the narrative style of writing in support of students' college essays. In addition, a College Essay Boot Camp is offered at Serra during the summer after junior year.

Q: Many parents feel that the competitive nature of the application process is over the top. How do you keep our Padres from becoming overwhelmed? What is your advice to students and to parents?
A: The biggest challenge students face is to learn who they are, what interests them and what they want to do with their lives. In that self-discovery, it means staying open-minded and not limiting their college searches to the most well-known schools. To reduce stress, we provide students and parents with all of the information they need. This is accomplished through e-newsletters, evening presentations, student and family meetings, and other college workshops. Our advice to parents is to stop listening to what everyone else says, and focus on finding schools that are the best fit for their sons.

CARL DOS REMEDIOS '78 SERRA'S NEW ADMISSIONS DIRECTOR

The Serra community welcomed Admissions Director Carl Dos Remedios '78 this fall, who is excited to return to his alma mater.

"Carl will lead Serra's admissions team moving forward, and we are delighted to welcome back an alumnus with such deep experience in admissions," said Serra President Lars Lund.

Dos Remedios has 20 years of admissions experience in Catholic and independent schools, including The Harker School in San Jose and Sacred Heart Preparatory in Atherton. "I am thrilled to join the wonderful school community of Serra High School and look forward to working with students and families who are interested in the benefits of a Serra education," he said. "Serra is a unique place that provides young men with numerous opportunities to grow intellectually and develop character as they prepare for college."

Dos Remedios replaces former Admissions Director Randy Vogel, who will continue his role as a math teacher at Serra. "We thank Randy Vogel for his 40-plus years of service as director of admissions, and for ushering in more than 10,000 students to Serra," Lund said. "He has dedicated four decades of his life to welcome Padres to the Serra community and support them throughout their four years at Serra."

Dos Remedios is a resident of San Carlos and a member of St. Charles parish. He and his wife, Alison, have three children and a black lab named Duke.

The Doors of Mercy Mural Mesmerizes Serra Community

Just outside the Class of '59 Fine Arts Courtyard, an astonishing mural of Pope Francis makes a splash over a narrow pathway. The mural is a tribute to Pope Francis' Year of Mercy. Passersby stop for a moment, astounded by the precision and talent.

Artist Marco Hernandez '16 explained that "The Doors of Mercy" mural was inspired by Serra's Mass of the Feast of the Immaculate Conception last year.

"The Doors of Mercy are symbols of the unconditional and forgiving love that God has for his children," Hernandez said. "The doors are not simply about feeling God's mercy for us, but also showing mercy to others. We are called to open the Doors of Mercy to those who are most vulnerable in our society. The Feast of the Immaculate Conception marked the passing of my grandfather. I recognized this as a direct opening of the Doors of Mercy to my grandfather, a person who suffered in this life. The Doors of Mercy give me faith, hope and guidance—especially for the suffering that we illustrated in the mural."

Hernandez and his fellow Serra artists, Jonathan Garcia, Nathaniel Liganor, Carlo Cardinale, Gianni Cardinale, Jonathan Rabang, Dylan Rojo Cagadoc and Sepehr Pazoki, brought the Doors of Mercy to life.

According to Serra art teacher Peggy Farrell, "The mural is so deep and meaningful to me personally, as I have been very touched by the ideas of the Doors of Mercy. I believe that this Mercy can and should extend into all of our futures."

Hernandez participated in the Serra enrichment trip to Italy during his spring break. After entering the Doors of Mercy at St. Peter's Basilica, he was filled with a sense of community and tranquility. "These doors were open to all, without discrimination," Hernandez recounted. "No person entered alone. The physical act of entering the doors revealed the truth that mercy is open to all of us when we aim for that sense of community."

Hernandez added that the spirituality he felt inside St. Peter's Basilica led him to create the incredible mural at Serra. On the giant wall, Pope Francis is joined by a rabbit, a lamb, fawn, gazelle and a couple of meerkats.

"The animals that wait in front of the Doors of Mercy serve as symbols of people who are most in need of our mercy," Hernandez noted. "The key for us to enter through these doors is to abandon our apathy for the vulnerable. We must replace our arrows with love that will heal the hearts of the broken. This is why each animal has a keyhole on its heart. It reminds us that the key to mercy resides in the image of Jesus' love."

Hernandez is currently studying animation and illustration at San Jose State University.

Fall Play

A Midsummer Night's Dream

Come one, come all! Tri-School Productions students from Serra, Mercy and Notre Dame presented William Shakespeare's most beloved comedy, A Midsummer Night's Dream, in October. The play featured a group of star-crossed lovers, a band of amateur actors, the king and queen of the fairies and their impish henchman, Puck, who created romantic and comic mayhem for all.

Serra junior Zach Smallman played the mischievous Puck. "The plot involved a lot of comedy, and it was all tied to the action," he said. "This show was very physical, and it was a great way for us to get exposure to this piece of English literature."

A Midsummer Night's Dream is a timeless classic featuring a band of hapless actors who leave the safety of city walls and head to the woods, where they are thrown into a magical world of fairies, kings and queens, love potions, and an impish sprite.

"This show was a truly unique experience from other shows," said Mercy junior Kasey O'Connell. "There were so many individual components that came together to make it really visually appealing."

"There were so many things that made this show fun to watch," said Grace Tillman, a junior at Notre Dame. "There was a lot of humor in the text."

Production/Theater Manager Lawrence Long said the high school students worked hard on interpreting the poetry of Shakespeare.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream is performed on hundreds of stages around the world every year," he noted. "The wild physical comedy and cavalcade of characters makes this dream extremely accessible to the old and young alike. "We hoped that the audience would enter a fantastical world, where reality and dreams are one and the same and the enduring spirit of joy triumphs over all."

Siempre Adelante Serra musician receives standing ovation

WHEN SERRA SENIOR MICHAEL ZELL WROTE THE INSTRUMENTAL COMPOSITION OF SIEMPRE ADELANTE LAST OCTOBER, THE FIRST PERSON HE SHARED IT WITH WAS HIS GRANDMA, HELEN GETCHEL. Amma (as Michael and his family affectionately called her) said she was very proud of him. Yet, time was fleeting. Just one week later, she had a stroke and passed away at 92 years of age.

"I know that my grandma wouldn't want me to hang my head," said Zell, a member of the Tri-M Music Honor Society. "I finished the song and told Mr. Jordan about it. He encouraged me to perform it at the Serra Spring Concert on May 11."

"Michael did an amazing job," said Serra Music Director Jay Jordan. "He stood on a podium and you could have heard a pin drop. I was so blown away by the amount of respect shown for Michael and for Siempre Adelante. The standing ovation he received at the spring concert was pretty special."

"It's one thing to see the ink on the sheet music, but it's a whole different experience to hear it come alive on the stage," Zell noted. "It was an amazing night. I'm sad that it's over, but I'm also happy because I know this is just the beginning of the journey."

Zell's passion for music began as a first-grader at Heather Elementary School in San Carlos, when he learned to play the piano. He soon graduated to the recorder and trumpet. At Tierra Linda Middle School, he participated in the symphonic band and the jazz band under the direction of Joe Murphy.

"Music is the most efficient way for me to express my emotions," Zell said. "I grew up in a musical family. My sister, Olivia (Mercy '13) also is a singer-songwriter. I always remember going to bed when I was little and hearing her singing in the other room."

Growing up, Zell learned songs on the piano by ear from his favorite movies, including Pirates of the Caribbean. "When I was older, I got into music from the '70s—particularly the music of The Eagles," he remembered. "I like how their band members work together as a team to create something for the audience to enjoy. Every song tells a story."

Zell is an extremely well-rounded student. A member of the National Honor Society, the Principal's List, and the Serra crew team, he hopes to become a Kairos leader this year. He spent his summer training for crew, working on his Eagle Scout project and writing another instrumental composition.

"It's a faster song," he said. "I use a music writing program on my laptop called MuseScore. You can enter each note individually and add instruments, lines and key signatures. I hope to minor in music next year in college. Everything is falling into place for me."

"Having strong senior leadership from the Class of 2016 in all four varsity eight boats this year raised the bar for our entire program. Their belief in themselves and each other was inspiring across all levels. This year opened a lot of eyes to what is possible with hard work and commitment, and our returning varsity athletes are eager to achieve even more."
-Head Crew Coach Adam Jones

WCAL Players of the Year 2015-2016

The WCAL is renowned for featuring some of the highest level of high school athletics competition in the nation. Dozens of WCAL alumni fill college rosters in myriad sports from coast to coast. It is a special year when a school can lay claim to Player of the Year awards for football, basketball and baseball; all being ultra-competitive sports throughout the league’s history. 2015-2016 was that special year for Serra, as junior quarterback Leki Nunn won the award for football, senior forward Jake Killingsworth won for basketball, and outfielder Hunter Bishop earned the honor in baseball.

Nunn shone as a dual-threat passer in Offensive Coordinator Steven Lo’s spread system. Nunn led the league in both passing and rushing yards, running wild when keeping the ball on read options. Head Coach Patrick Walsh occasionally described Nunn as a “reluctant quarterback,” as he had also displayed flashes of greatness at the running back and slot receiver positions. He improved greatly over the course of the season and ended the year with 16 touchdown passes and just four interceptions. He also rushed for nine more touchdowns for a total of 25 on the year. Returning for his senior year, Nunn is primed for an outstanding senior season after leading the league in rushing and passing. He was named the Daily News Offensive Player of the Year and an All-State Junior.

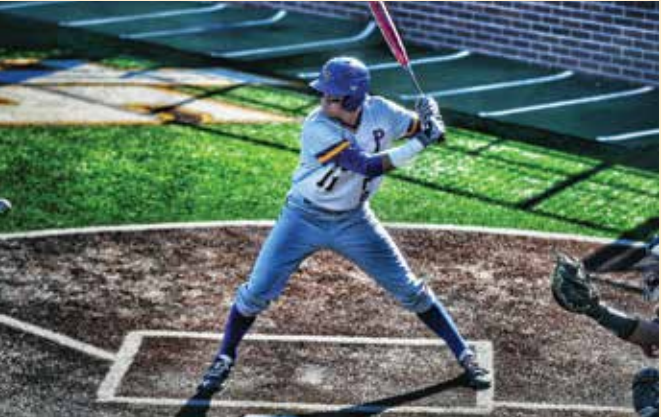

Killingsworth transferred to Serra his sophomore year from Rogers, Arkansas, and was immediately placed on varsity. He will always have a place in Serra history after sinking three straight free throws in the 2015 CCS Championship game with .7 seconds left to win the game for the Padres. Last year, Killingsworth was a lights-out shooter from the three-point line, while having the athleticism to defend at a high level and finish above the rim in traffic. He was named the Cal-Hi Sports DII Player of the Year while leading the Padres to the DII state championship. Killingsworth is also an excellent student, taking three Advanced Placement classes his senior year and carrying a GPA over 4.0. He was recruited by many elite academic institutions throughout the nation, and committed to attend Columbia University in New York. Killingsworth is the fourth player from Chuck Rapp’s basketball program to play for an Ivy League school over the past 10 years.

Bishop entered the season as an Under Armour All-American, as well as an MLB Draft prospect. At 6’4” and 190 pounds, Bishop patrolled right field for the Padres with rare speed and range. He hit .426 for the WCAL-champion Padres, while scoring 29 runs with 23 RBI. Bishop was named to Cal-Hi Sports’ Super Elite All-State First Team, reserved for the top 30 players in California, as well as The San Francisco Chronicle’s All-Metro Team. He was drafted by the San Diego Padres in June, but declined their offer in order to play for Arizona State University this year.

COLE GALLI AND JAKE KILLINGSWORTH 2016 SHEA AWARD RECIPIENTS

Serra’s Shea Award was established in 1966 in honor of James P. Shea ’58, who fought in the Vietnam War and was killed in action. The annual award goes to a senior athlete who displays outstanding sportsmanship, athletic ability and excellence in the classroom.

Two multi-sport athletes shared the award in 2016, with Jake Killingsworth and Cole Galli earning the honor. Both were captains of Serra’s state championship basketball team, while Killingsworth also was a standout track athlete and Galli an infielder on the baseball team.

“These were two very deserving student-athletes, who exhibited the sportsmanship and honor worthy of this award,” said Athletic Director Dean Ayoob ’92. “They played hard every minute of every game and meet, and showed respect to their opponents.”

Killingsworth currently attends Columbia University in New York City, where he is a member of the basketball team. Galli is attending California State University, Chico.

Thank you, Jaime Huerta '90

Serra Fathers' Club president honored for taking club to new level

Jaime Huerta '90 is known for his can-do attitude and ability to motivate members of the Fathers' Club to participate in activities and community service projects. Huerta has spent the last three years volunteering at Serra as the Fathers' Club president. He stepped down in June, but will continue to mentor Mike Black '90, the father of Mason '19 and future Padre Gerren Black.

"Jaime was a great communicator who got the guys motivated," said Serra Alumni Director Bob Greene '85. "He worked well with everyone and was always so positive. Jaime has an exceptional ability to lead people. Mike Black also is an alumnus, and we look forward to his leadership."

Jaime and his wife, Marisela, have two children—Stephen "Estevan" '16 and Jasmine (Mercy, '12). Their hands-on approach as parents enabled them to get to know their children's friends and their parents. They also had a lot of fun along the way.

"When I was in high school at Serra, my parents purchased a restaurant in South San Francisco," Huerta recounted. "I had to drop basketball because my brother (Rafael '87) and I worked all the time—12-hour days on the weekends. I learned what hard work was, but that's what it took for my parents to send us to private school. I know that my education at Serra led me to be the person I am today. It was all worth it."

Huerta majored in electronics engineering technology at DeVry University. He is a senior quality engineer at a semiconductor equipment manufacturer in Silicon Valley. Despite his busy schedule, he always made time for the Fathers' Club.

"It's a great way to meet other dads," Huerta said. "I wanted to be involved at Serra with my son. I also wanted to show him an example of how to be involved in your school. I wasn't able to participate in extracurricular activities, but I wanted Estevan to do so. For me, my second time around, I wanted to show everyone that I was coming from the heart. I'm just an average guy who wanted to be part of my son's life while he was in high school. Four years go by very quickly."

Huerta organized events and streamlined the Rebuilding Together Peninsula project. Every year, Serra dads and their sons completely transform the home of a local resident, bringing joy to the homeowner.

"Rebuilding Together is a perfect example of how we give back to our local community," Huerta said. "You get to work side by side with your son, while directly affecting and changing a person's life."

Ironically, everything came full circle for Huerta a few years ago. Some things are just meant to be . . .

"During Estevan's freshman year and our first Rebuilding Together Peninsula project, I had a lot on my plate at work," Huerta remembered. "I was coaching Pony baseball and contemplating whether to take on the position of president. But when Estevan and I arrived at the house in South San Francisco, I knew it. The gentleman who lived there was one of my former customers when my parents owned Papa Joe's restaurant. I had delivered pizza to him for 10 years! He still recognized me after 20 years and said, 'Where's my pizza?' We all laughed. Sadly, he was in a car accident and has suffered some brain trauma. At that moment, I knew that it was God's way of telling me, 'You're going to be part of this.' My Fathers' Club experience changed me and it changed my perspective of life."

"Jaime actually changed the culture of the Fathers' Club," said Serra Special Events Coordinator Theresa Stoye. "He was an incredible leader who provided vision and direction for the club. Jaime is multifaceted and is such a nice guy. We're happy that he will mentor the new president this year and will continue to work with us. Jaime truly lives out the motto, Once a Padre, always a Padre."

Faith Comes Full Circle

Dante Pellegrini '89 and son are baptized
at St. Peter's Basilica

After an incredible turn of events, Dante Pellegrini '89 and his son, Dante Marciano Pietro, were baptized on June 4 at St. Peter's Basilica, the Renaissance church inside Vatican City. A few days later, on June 8, they were blessed by Pope Francis in St. Peter's Square. Pellegrini shed tears, as he shared his journey of faith from the halls of Serra to those unforgettable moments inside the world's largest church.

"My wife, Jody, my parents, two aunts, and my Uncle Paul were present in St. Peter's Basilica for the baptism," Pellegrini noted. "The entire staff at St. Peter's treated us like family. Cardinal Angelo Comastri performed the sacrament. He gave us beautiful rosaries and a Christmas ornament that he hand-painted."

Pellegrini has faced many health issues over the years. In April of 2012, he was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer, just five months after his wedding. His doctors gave him a 2-4 percent survival rate and advised him to go on his honeymoon.

He and Jody went on their honeymoon in Italy, which included a visit to the Vatican. While inside St. Peter's Basilica, as he stood under a giant oil painting of John the Baptist baptizing Jesus, Pellegrini said he felt the presence of the Holy Spirit.

"I fell to the ground and started crying," he remembered. "I rose to my feet and said to my wife, 'This is where I am going to be baptized.'"

In the months after that moment, he learned that he did not have cancer, but rather, a rare auto-immune disease called IGG4, a chronic inflammatory condition that attacks the body.

Pellegrini is still dealing with many health challenges that threaten his life. He recently was diagnosed with another non-cancerous tumor in his liver and blood clots in his lungs.

When he was a student at Serra, Pellegrini was not a Christian. However, Lars Lund's theology class planted the seed that inspired him to become a Catholic. "My faith began at Serra," Pellegrini noted. "My teachers believed in me and I started to believe in the Catholic faith. Lars mentored me and I started to believe in myself."

After Serra, Pellegrini attended C.W. Post College in Long Island, where he played football and studied marketing and finance. In 1996, during his senior year of college, Pellegrini had a massive stroke. This led him to his first epiphany of faith.

"My right eye was going crazy; I kept falling down and I had no control over my body," he recounted. "I thought I was dying. I got off the ground, looked to the sky and said, 'God is this it? Am I dying right now?' At that moment, I realized that I did believe in God."

During the months after the stroke, Pellegrini searched his soul for the faith he felt on that fateful day. "I realized that God saved me that day for a purpose—it was now up to me to define that purpose," he remembered.

After college, Pellegrini returned to the Bay Area and met his future wife, Jody, while selling broadcast and digital media. Learning from those experiences, he has since built a mobile-focused incentive marketing technology company named Incentmark, which he and his team believe will revolutionize the world of digital media and advertising.

When he's not working, Pellegrini continues to nurture his lifelong friendships with his fellow Padres. "I'm still friends with many of my Serra classmates; they continue to have an incredible influence on my life," he noted.

Pellegrini's hope for little Dante Marciano is that he will grow up to serve the will of God, be led by the Holy Spirit, and spread the word of Jesus and the Catholic faith.

"Jody and I are praying for more children," Pellegrini added. "We know that I'm not out of the woods, and we don't know what the future holds. But, God gives us the peace, patience and strength to handle any challenge we face."

The Music Man

Scott Igoe '86 drums up business

When Scott Igoe '86 was a student at Serra, he was a drummer in a band called The Seen. He and his friends always looked forward to Day on the Green, particularly when U2 and The Police were part of the lineup. A few months ago, Igoe hung out with Police lead singer Sting and his wife, Trudy, at a Hollywood rock concert after-party.

After 13 years working as the music booker for Jimmy Kimmel Live, Igoe recently was promoted to vice president of alternative series and specials at ABC. He will oversee all non-scripted prime time series and specials for music. This will include Dancing with the Stars, The Bachelor, The Bachelorette, Bachelor in Paradise, the Country Music Awards, the American Music Awards and Dick Clark's New Year's Rockin' Eve, to name a few.

Hanging with Sting was a dream come true for Igoe, and the rock legend did not disappoint.

“Sting made a surprise visit at Jimmy Kimmel Live earlier in the day, when he performed with The Last Bandoleros before his Hollywood Bowl show with Peter Gabriel,” Igoe recounted. “After the Bowl performance, we celebrated at a supper club with friends and family. It was a surreal moment to actually watch his Jimmy Kimmel Live performance on TV, while standing next to him at the after-party. I’m looking forward to seeing him be honored with a Lifetime Achievement Award at the American Music Awards.”

So, how did Igoe go from teen drummer to his dream job in the music industry? He credits his serendipitous journey to hard work, timing and good fortune. After graduating from Cal State Northridge with a degree in English, Igoe accepted an internship at Interscope Records.

“I worked there for free,” he said. “It was 20 hours a week for six months. I was an intern in the radio promotion department. When the receptionist left, I applied for her position. One day, (Interscope Records Cofounder) Jimmy Iovine walked in and I ended up being his assistant for five years. I learned everything about working with musicians and managers from Jimmy. I learned how to treat them, what to say, what not to say.”

Working for Jimmy Kimmel Live was an absolute blast for Igoe. He has met everyone from Coldplay and Mariah Carey to Jay Z and Guns ‘n’ Roses (all of whom are extremely professional, according to Igoe).

“My motto is that it’s not cool to be a jerk—ever,” he noted. “Some rock stars have an attitude, while others have more business savvy. The country music artists are some of the nicest people to work with—I think it’s their upbringing.”

Igoe is juggling an extremely busy schedule that is filled with all sorts of creative projects. “I have worked on eight specials during the last four months—two in Nashville, two in Orlando, one in New York, one in Atlantic City and two in Los Angeles,” he noted. “I’m looking forward to working on The Oscars for the first time in February.”

Igoe and his wife, Shanna, live in Glendale with their two daughters, Ruby and Roxanne. Shanna is the senior director of production at VH1. Many of her shows feature musical talent, including her most recent project, Martha and Snoop's Potluck Dinner Party.

“We recognize that our girls have been exposed to music in a way that most people have not,” Igoe said. “They have attended concerts most of their lives. Their favorite artists include Taylor Swift, Shawn Mendes, Bruno Mars, Drake, Halsey, Disclosure and Chet Faker. We remind them often about their unique position, and they are always thrilled to meet an artist they admire.”

Igoe’s fellow Padres celebrate his success, and say that it couldn’t have happened to a nicer, more down-to-earth guy.

“Scott is very dedicated to the friendships he developed at Serra,” said Igoe’s lifelong buddy, Mike Callan '86. “He always makes time to schedule time each Christmas break to get together for dinner and a 49ers game with his fellow Padre alumni. Not too many people survive the music industry, but Scott possesses unique skills, including a great sense of humor, compassion for others and a tireless love of music. His passion for music took him down a long road, which ultimately paid off.”

In loving memory of Danny Lucido '07

THOUGHTFUL. LOYAL. WORLD-CLASS BROTHER. THE MOST DEVOTED FRIEND ANYONE COULD EVER HAVE These are just a few words and phrases used to describe Danny Lucido, who passed away on May 4 after a four-year battle with cancer.

The pews were packed at St. Gregory’s Church in San Mateo on May 13, when Fr. Joe Bradley ’73 led a special memorial service honoring Danny’s life.

“The Lucidos are a very brave, thoughtful and faith-filled family,” Fr. Joe said. “We wanted to prepare a liturgy that reflected exactly what Danny wanted. Danny’s vision and voice were seen and heard throughout the Mass. Danny wanted his service to celebrate the joy and passion of his young life, and we tried to remain true to his wishes.”

In addition to Danny’s parents, Danny leaves behind a brother, Steven ’10 and a sister, Courtney. Although the Lucido family is mourning the devastating loss of Danny, it has been comforting for them to feel the outpouring of love from the Serra community.

“It was immediate, constant and amazing,” said Danny’s father, Kevin Lucido. “We were just awed by the brotherhood component. In the face of incredible pain and unspeakable loss, there were a few incredibly bright moments. The Serra community was a common link during a time of sheer agony.” So many people asked what they could do and how Danny could best be remembered. During the memorial service, we looked out to see the current Serra lacrosse team in the pews. Lacrosse was so important to Danny when he was at Serra. Fr. Joe brought integrity and honesty to the service, and he helped all of us to get through it. He was so caring and absolutely wonderful.”

“Danny was a terrific young man—educated, athletic and productive, a loving family member and a loyal friend,” said Danny’s mother, Linda Lucido. “What I learned through the outreach and outpouring of love by so many people was that Danny was—in his own quiet way—quite remarkable. I’m so grateful to those who took the time to share their memories and stories, providing me the comfort of knowing that though his journey was cut short, he touched so many people along the way.”

Danny’s lifelong friends recently reflected on their years of friendship. Jason Dunn ’07 met Danny in first grade at St. Greg’s.

“Danny and I grew up together and we were almost like brothers during our childhood,” he noted. “I spent so much time with him and our friend, Matt Christman. The three of us did everything together. Danny was a special influence on me as we figured out the basics in life: the simple difference between right and wrong, how to be a good friend, how to be a good teammate, how to be a good brother (Danny set the bar on this one so high) and how to enjoy life. We played sports outside for hours, and there was nothing in the world that could be better.”

“Danny was selfless,” Matt said. “He truly wanted what was best for others. He was a quiet leader who led by example. When you were with Danny, you knew that you had a true friend—someone who genuinely wanted the best for you. Some of my best childhood memories include Kevin’s famous waffles at the Lucidos’ house, or a movie with chocolate milkshakes and homemade popcorn. I know that all of our friends have simple, yet powerful stories about Danny. He truly was one of a kind.”

Gary DeMartini ’07 met Danny during freshman basketball tryouts. “We formed a special bond on the freshman B team when we sat on the bench together,” Gary recounted. “What made Danny special was his humbleness. He was a friend I could always turn to when I needed advice. I looked up to Danny as an older brother. The strength and courage that Danny portrayed came from Kevin, Linda, Steven and Courtney. They are a wonderful family and I am very fortunate to have them in my life. One day, I plan to be a father. If my children grow up to be half the man Danny was, I’ll be a proud man. Gone, but never forgotten.”

Danny was an avid sports fan who followed the San Francisco Giants and the Golden State Warriors. After Serra, Danny attended the University of Arizona, where he was a proud Wildcat. He graduated from college in 2011 with a bachelor’s degree in interdisciplinary studies.

“Danny was so special; he never complained about anything,” said Bobby McCarthy ’07, who attended Serra and the University of Arizona with Danny. “We joined the same fraternity, Delta Chi, at U of A. Danny was happy when he knew that everyone around him was happy. He was always so cool and relaxed, and he could cure everyone else’s problems with his bright smile and unforgettable humor. I will miss Danny more than words can describe. He was the true definition of what a Padre should be. I am grateful for the time that I spent with him and I know he will always hold a blessing hand over all of us. Once a Padre, Always a Padre.”

Danny was extremely close to his brother and sister. In fact, Steven took a leave of absence from his career to care for Danny. Steven knew that time with his brother was limited and he wanted to be by his brother’s side. Courtney spent a great deal of special time with her brother as his illness progressed, and she often visited from college.

“From the recollections of his family members, former teammates, lifelong friends, coaches, teachers and extended family, I discovered that Danny made a difference in his too-short life,” Linda said. “He made people laugh. He welcomed outsiders. He was a peacemaker. He led by example. And—especially in recent years—he was a source of hard-earned perspective and boundless strength. The support of our community has taken so many forms and means more than I can express; but it’s this sharing of memories that, for me, has been the greatest kindness of all.”

“Linda and I would like to thank the Serra community,” Kevin added. “To anyone out there who is considering Serra, it truly is a special place. My sons loved every minute of their time there. The friendships, memories and bonds that you tie are something you will cherish forever.”

If you would like to honor Danny Lucido’s life, please consider a donation to the Serra Padre Lacrosse Program in Honor of Danny Lucido, at Serra High School, 451 W. 20th Ave., San Mateo, CA 94403.

Calvin Riley '15 Forever in our Hearts

On August 6, the Serra community lost an angel. Calvin Riley was taken too soon, and it was a devastating shock to all who knew him and loved him. Calvin will be remembered forever for his sunny personality and love of baseball. He inspired others with his compassion for others and positive spirit.

Calvin's parents, Sean and Kariann, remember their son as a happy, sweet boy with a gentle nature.

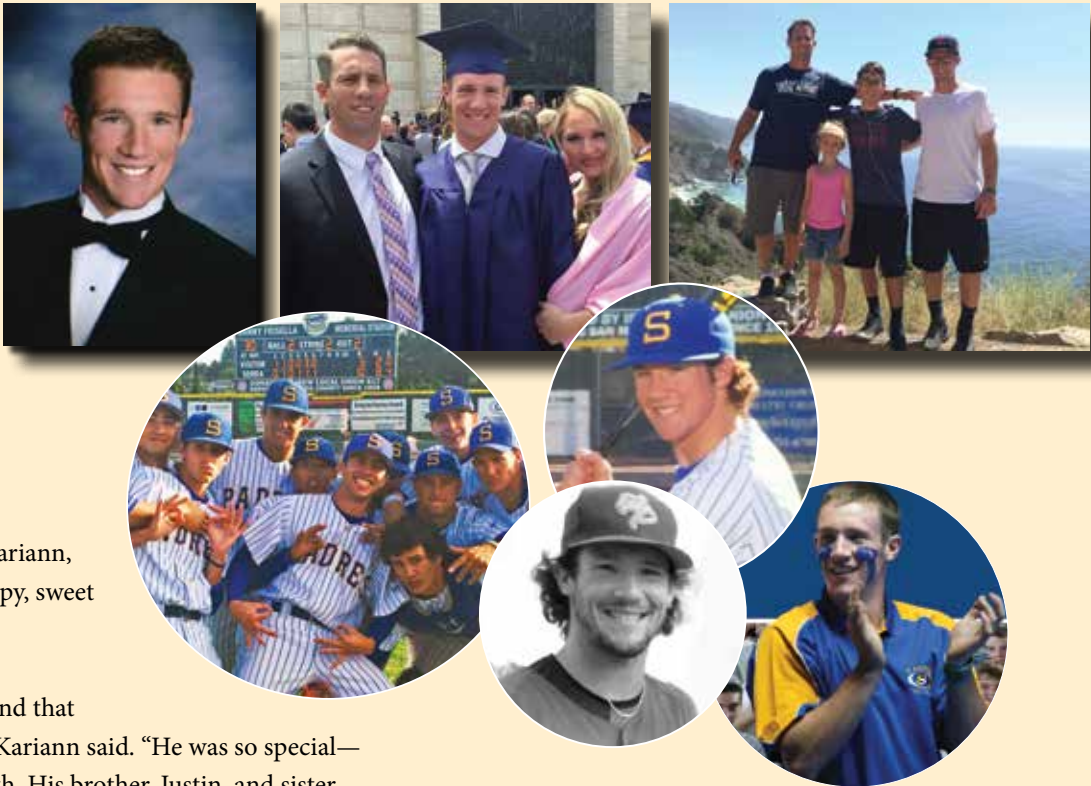

“He was the happiest baby, and that continued through his life,” Kariann said. “He was so special—almost too good for this earth. His brother, Justin, and sister, Bria, adored him. He was wonderful to them. Cal had a heart of gold. He gave us the best 20 years of our lives . . . it was an honor to be his parents.”

The Rileys moved to California five years ago from Boston. It was a seamless adjustment for Calvin. Especially noteworthy was his ease with people.

“It didn’t matter if you were an athlete, in drama or anything else—Calvin was friends with everyone and he loved to help people,” Kariann added. “If people were down, he tried to brighten their day. He loved being a Padre.”

A funeral Mass was held on August 12 at St. Gregory Catholic Church in San Mateo. The Mass was celebrated by former Serra Chaplain Fr. Joe Bradley ’73.

“In all my years involved in Serra sports, Calvin was the happiest, most joyful athlete I ever met,” Fr. Joe said. “He loved baseball, he loved competing, and, perhaps more than anything, he loved the camaraderie he shared with his brother Padres. It was tangible. Although a ferocious competitor, there was a kindness about Calvin that moved and inspired his teammates (and chaplain) to be their best at all times, in and out of the dugout. I grieve Calvin's loss, but know that I'm a better person for having known him.”

In the months that followed, current students and alumni did many special things to keep Calvin's memory alive. Many Padres wear bracelets with an embossed Cal Riley #9—Calvin's baseball number. Serra baseball players end their daily practice routines with a special prayer and a loud “1-2-3 CR-9, 1-2-3 Padres!”

Assistant Athletics Director John Kirby ’95 noted that Serra Padres are called to be men of faith, wisdom, community, service and leadership.

“Calvin embodied all of the qualities that exist in a true Padre through faith by spreading the Gospel in his actions and love for others, through wisdom in his ability to see the world as God does, community in his love for his family and friends, service in his perpetual willingness to aid others, and leadership in the example that he set for his classmates to follow,” he said. “He will be missed every day.”

We will continue to pray for the Riley family—Sean, Kariann, Calvin, Justin and Bria. Calvin will never be forgotten; his bright light will always illuminate our hearts.

When tomorrow starts without me
and I’m not there to see,
If the sun should rise and find your eyes
all filled with tears for me,

I’ll wish so much you wouldn’t cry
the way you did today
While thinking of the many things we didn’t get to say.

I know how much you love me
as much as I love you,
And each time that you think of me
I know you miss me, too.

When tomorrow starts without me,
don’t think we’re far apart,
For every time you think of me,
I’m right here in your heart.

PADRE STUDENT-ATHLETES EXCEL AT THE NEXT LEVEL

FIRST TEAM ALL-IVY LEAGUE

Two Serra alumni were named First Team All-Ivy League this past year. Henry Caruso '13, a Princeton student playing basketball, and Luke Longinotti '08, a Yale student playing football, were named to the prestigious list. Both natives of Burlingame, the two Padre alumni have thrived academically and athletically in their collegiate years.

Caruso led the Tigers in points per game (15), rebounds per game (6.2) and total steals (37). A threat both driving through the lane and outside on the wing, he was third in the Ivy League in three-point shooting percentage (45 percent).

Longinotti was a three-year starter at center for the Bulldogs and earned four awards last year as a senior leader: The Ted Blair Award for most valuable player, the Jordan Olivar Award for respect of teammates, the Robert Gardner Anderson Award for skill and spirit and the Ted Turner award for most valuable offensive lineman. Longinotti graduated from Yale in June. Caruso has returned for his senior year at Princeton.

CHRIS BRADLEY '13 AT CALTECH

Chris Bradley '13 is rewriting the water polo record book at Caltech. Bradley, a senior at the elite academic institution, broke the Beavers' 30-year-old record for single-season goals with 134. He was named a two-time Academic All-American after his sophomore and junior seasons, a first in Caltech history.

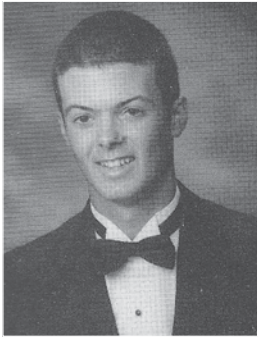

"I was attracted by the school's rigorous academic reputation, and I wanted to study mechanical engineering," Bradley told Caltech.edu. "I chose Caltech for purely academic reasons, but it's definitely a plus that Caltech is a place where I could continue playing sports." The six-foot athlete also joined the school's baseball team during his sophomore year.

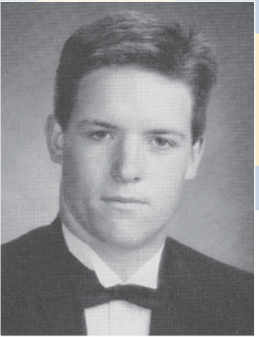

Bradley has enjoyed summer internships with Caltech professors in Pasadena and with the United States Air Force in Ohio, where he studied low-observable materials for stealth. He is considering both graduate school and industry after graduation with a mechanical engineering degree. Caltech is ranked as the number 7 academic university in the world in US News's latest rankings. Bradley was one of Serra's valedictorians in 2013.

A MESSAGE FROM THE ADVANCEMENT DIRECTOR

Dear Alumni, Parents and Friends of Serra,

The journeys of no two Serra students are exactly alike. They never have been. However, the journeys of all Serra students have a great deal in common; they are filled with triumphs and challenges as they research, compute, analyze, lift, sprint, explore, throw, read, question, climb, act, write, present, dance, row and sing their way through high school.

It is a life-shaping and empowering time, and these journeys would not be possible without the generosity of the Serra community. Tuition simply does not cover the cost of a full Serra experience. The Padre Fund provides critical funding for the operating budget. Capital gifts enable us to care for and enhance our campus. Endowment giving allows us to ambitiously increase access to students who could otherwise not attend Serra. Securing these funds is one of the Advancement Office’s primary responsibilities, and we are privileged to work with devoted alumni, parents and friends who believe that Serra is worthy of their support.

The 2015-16 Padre Fund was a remarkable success, providing 11 percent of the operating budget, or $1.97 million. We are thankful for the more than 4,600 donors, as well as the efforts of our many committed volunteers. Dedicated alumni and parents led reunion efforts, hosted events, generated enthusiasm for Serra and stewarded important relationships on the school’s behalf. We achieved the goals that we set last summer because of these contributions, and we could not be more grateful.

On behalf of Serra High School, thank you for your dedication and commitment. I am honored to share your devotion and look forward to our continued work together.

Sincerely,

Perry Carter

A Profile in Giving
Catering to the Serra Community: The Esposito Family

The Serra community gathered for an evening of camaraderie a few weeks ago at the City by the Bay fall event. Under stunning backdrops of San Francisco’s most famous landmarks, it was hard not to be wowed by the specialty food stations that represented San Francisco’s diverse neighborhoods—delicious dumplings from Chinatown, delectable pasta from North Beach, tacos from the Mission District and garlic fries from AT&T Park. All of it was catered by Esposito’s Catering, which is owned and operated by a generous Serra family.

For 60 years, Peninsula residents have raved about the mouth-watering sauces, lasagnas, made-to-order salads and incredible deli sandwiches. It all began with Ray Esposito, a.k.a. “Ravioli Ray,” who catered church and school functions while supporting his wife and seven children.

He later decided to start his own business, right out of his garage, until he opened a deli on B Street. The Esposito family has been part of San Mateo’s rich tapestry for six decades.

“We just did a 50th anniversary party for a San Mateo couple—a couple whose wedding we catered 50 years ago,” noted Ray’s son and current owner, Bill Esposito. “We feel very fortunate that we’ve maintained relationships like that in our community. It’s also very rewarding to have my family here—now the second and third generations. It makes me very proud that they want to be part of the business.”

Bill has similar feelings about Serra. His boys, Gabe '95, Ryan '93 and Victor '03, enjoyed their high school years. The Esposito family continues to support Serra in many ways, which is greatly appreciated.

“Serra made my boys accountable in business,” Bill said. “They learned important life lessons there. They learned how to be men who are responsible and community-minded.”

“Serra stressed the importance of family and encouraged us to strive to be the best that we can be,” Victor Esposito said. “We were raised with a great work ethic, and that was supported at Serra. We also learned the importance of treating people with respect. We treat people like family and we have such a great crew; they’re like my second family.”

“Serra taught us to strive for excellence and to give back,” added Gabe Esposito. “All of us grew up working at Esposito’s. My first job was driving for Esposito’s when I was 16. I’ve always worked with my mom and dad (Judy and Bill), my brothers and my sister, Desiree. My dad purchased Esposito’s in 2000 and I ended up working for him after I graduated from college. I’ve never left! Five years later, my brothers, sister and I started Your Party Rental Company. We wanted our business to be a one-stop shop.”

Esposito’s makes planning parties super easy—from choosing menus and themes to assisting with tables, chairs and tablecloths. According to Gabe, “Everything is homemade, and we’ve used the same recipes for 60 years—from our Italian dressing to our meat sauce. The majority of the recipes are from my grandfather and Uncle Gene. I love that we’re working with the third generation now. A lot of the younger cousins work for me at our delis and running catering jobs. This business is in our blood—we’ve been doing it our whole lives.”

Endowed Scholarship Funds

Serra’s Named Endowed Scholarship Funds exist to honor families and loved ones by supporting Serra’s financial aid program in perpetuity. Each year, these funds accrue interest on their principal amounts, and scholarship awards are given to deserving families. This year, these funds are contributing $320,000 toward financial aid for our Padres. We are grateful to the Serra families who have set up these funds and to the scores of alumni, parents and friends who have generously contributed to building them over the years.

Fund a Dream Scholarship Benefit

Serra Padres are thoughtful, accomplished young men who value their Serra experiences. The Fund a Dream Scholarship Benefit assures that each young man who dreams of becoming a Padre will have an opportunity to be part of Serra, regardless of his family's ability to afford tuition. To date, Fund a Dream has raised almost $2.2 million for financial aid for Serra's deserving young men. If you are interested in attending the 2016 Fund a Dream, please contact Theresa Stoye at 650.573.9935 ext. 189, or email tstoye@serrahs.com.

Matching Gifts

If your employer has a matching gift program, we urge you to take advantage of this benefit. Your donation will have an even greater impact on supporting the young men of Serra High School. Check with your employer’s human resources department for the matching gift form. In some cases, your generous gift may be doubled or possibly tripled! Some companies also match gifts made by retirees and/or spouses.

For more information on Serra’s Matching Gift Program, or to find out if your company has a matching gift policy, log on to:
www.serrahs.com/matchinggift

Remember, all annual gifts are 100% tax deductible in accordance with federal tax laws.

Memorial Endowment Fund

A memorial gift to Serra can help to perpetuate the values that guided a loved one's life. Gifts may also honor a person during his or her lifetime, or commemorate a significant event. Your thoughtful donation becomes a living memorial that touches the lives of our students. All those listed in our memorial book are remembered during a monthly Mass offered in the school chapel. Memorial/honorees are listed in blue, followed by the names of donors.
